

MOSCOW DISTRICT NOW IN THROES OF THE SPREADING REVOLUTION

While Other and More Distant Points Reflect Spirit of Revolt

Quiet Pervades Capital as People are Overawed by Soldiery

REVOLUTION IS REPORTED IN POLAND

Socialists Are Distributing Circulars Denouncing Emperor, Autocracy, the Military Establishment and Demand- ing a Cessation of the War in the Far East ---Reported Clash of Strikers and Cossacks Today.

KOVNO RUSSIA, Jan. 24.—(Bulletin)—The strike movement is growing here and rioting has begun. No serious damage has yet been done. Kovno is the capital of the Russian government of the same name. The eastern boundary line of the province touches on Germany, while the northern line comes within a short distance of the Baltic. Few of the residents of Kovno are Russians, the majority of them being descendants of the Samogitians, a people speaking a language closely allied to the Lithuanians.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—A riot is reported at Ramdom, Poland, near Warsaw. Rebels dynamited the public buildings, it is reported. In a fight three officers and many rebels and soldiers are reported killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24.—(Bulletin)—The strike has reached Vilna Province. Quiet pervades the capital and environs this afternoon.

MOSCOW, Jan. 24.—Ten thousand strikers had quit here by noon today. A supreme effort is being made to prevent the strikers from obtaining arms. Strikers this afternoon are planning a monster parade. They are orderly.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24.—Emissaries of the Socialists again distributed proclamations among the strikers today. The proclamations inveigh against autocracy, the emperor and officials for treatment of the peasants and cruel firing on defenseless people Sunday. They call for immediate cessation of the far Eastern war, calling of a constituent assembly at which representatives of the people will be admitted, the removal of class restrictions and freedom of speech and conscience.

CAPITAL QUIET THIS MORNING.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24.—The capital was quiet this morning but it is feared the quiet will last for but a few hours, when the storm will again break loose. During the night the strikers tore down telephone wires from the city to Tsarkoosko and the Czar has been but partially informed of the events. The strikers also attempted to plunder the big Universal Provider store, but were repulsed. Fifteen hundred workmen got into the Sestroretsk rifle factory and stole all the rifles. They destroyed the railroad from St. Petersburg to Sestroretsk.

It is reported also that a section of the railway from St. Petersburg to Moscow has been destroyed. Another sensational report is that the rebels have forced an entrance to the Gentloff ammunition factory and have seized large quantities of explosives and cartridges. These indications point to the renewal of bloodshed today. The rebels it is learned, intend to march 40,000 strong to Tsarkoosko and make another attempt to see the Czar.

REVOLT IS RAPIDLY SPREADING

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24.—The revolt is fast spreading throughout the nation. Armed Finns are rising. Fifty thousand strikers gathered at Golpino and it is feared will march on St. Petersburg. The government issued an official statement today saying there were no serious clashes yesterday and no casualties. It says as a result of the striking employees of the gas and electric light works and consequent darkness there was much plundering and minor rioting. The number of casualties Sunday is officially reported at 68 killed and 233 wounded.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—While quiet again pervades St. Petersburg and its environs this afternoon, it is evident to the casual observer that this was order of the enforced kind; that it was preserved by a circle of glittering bayonets, and that, for the time being, the people were overawed.

Will it last, or does the next few days, or perhaps hours hold for the capital or the country scenes of carnage and rioting beyond even the lamentable occurrence of Sunday? Time will answer this, but indications are that the trouble has not, by any means ended. The streets today had a more normal appearance than yesterday except that the shop windows remained. With these in their hands the strikers will present a most formidable front to the troops and should a clash occur the results would be far more serious than even the horror of Sunday's massacre.

There is little question that the spread of the strike to Moscow has caused more perturbation of the official mind than even the widespread movement in St. Petersburg. The employees of many factories there have quit work and the strikers are emulating the example of the capital workmen. They are marching from place to place prevailing upon others to join them. All the printers of the city have gone out as have the workers at the gas plants and the electric light plants.

It is a most serious situation that now confronts the officials. In Moscow, the opportunities for riot and successful revolution are far greater than at any large center in all of Russia. The workmen there are of a higher class mentally than those of St. Petersburg and they are greater in number, and when aroused, as has been shown on several occasions, are almost irresistible in their fury. Then, too, there are fewer troops than workmen in the district and this fact alone would be sufficient to strike cold terror to the heart of Russian officialdom, should the strikers take to rioting.

The news of the massacre in St. Petersburg has reached Moscow over private telephone wires. This news has roused the workmen to a desire for revenge, which it would take but little to fan into open revolution and consequent carnage.

A report was current this morning that Father Gopon, who has been leading the strikers in the capital, has gone to Moscow to conduct the propaganda there.

Reports have been received of a great uneasiness in Finland. The Finns are said to be on the point of joining the strikers and in many quarters are reported to be already collecting arms for the possible conflict. In Finland, as would be true in Poland, there is, in addition to that dread of government of officials, the strongest kind of patriotic fervor for home rule, and the slogans "Free Finland" and "Free Poland," added to the cries for justice in economical affairs would doubtless spur the rioters in these districts to excesses undreamed of.

Despite the quiet which pervades the city of St. Petersburg there are constantly small occurrences which show the feeling of revolution is far from dormant. Here a group of workers, walking along the Nevsky Prospect or in the direction of the Nicholas or Tsarkoosko stations find their further progress barred by a party of soldiery. No words are exchanged, but the workers, after glaring at the troops, turn on their heels and resume their way with low mutterings and curses. They are like wild beasts, held in check by an overpowering influence, but let them once taste of victory and death alone could stop them.

Lining the Nevsky Prospect are many of the homes of the more fashionable element. Through the Prospect all the day other groups have been making their way and as they pass the homes of the wealthy or near the palaces of some of the nobility the murderous glances turned in the direction of the buildings, the shaking of clenched fists in impatient rage and the curses hurled at the occupants are sufficient to show the underlying feeling of the populace. In fact so terrible are these looks and curses that many of the wealthier classes are today hurrying their wives and families to safer places in the outlying districts.

Many sensational reports were current this morning, one of which have the earmarks of truth. One of these had it that the strikers had succeeded in cutting the telephone line from St. Petersburg to Tsarkoosko, thus cutting the Czar off from full knowledge of affairs as they transpired in the capital.

Another had it that between twelve and fifteen workmen had planned to march on Tsarkoosko this afternoon and again attempt to place their demands before the emperor. This report has been so persistently repeated in well informed quarters that it has gained considerable credence. Should such an attempt be made by the workers in their present state of mind and with some arms in their possession there can be little doubt but that Sunday's rioting in the city would be repeated only with more horrifying details.

Reports have also been received throughout the day of railroads torn up at various points and other works of destruction by the rioters.

The government this morning announced several official changes. It was announced that General Foulon, chief of Police of St. Petersburg, has been appointed Governor General of Warsaw as a reward for his suppression of Sunday's riots. The notorious reactionist, Treppoff, formerly chief of police of Moscow, has been appointed Governor General of St. Petersburg; while General Frisch has been made chief of police of St. Petersburg.

These changes will prove of no benefit to the strikers, inasmuch as both Treppoff and Frisch have a reputation for extreme severity. The official Messenger this morning contains an official account of yesterday's occurrences which says there was no clashes and casualties.

Up to noon today 10,000 strikers had quit work.

The employees of the Hopper's factory this morning refused to join the strike, but were forced to quit work. A mob of 500 workmen forced an entrance to the factory. They ejected the workmen and demolished all the machinery.

The employees of the tanneries were persuaded to join the ranks of the strikers this afternoon.

All arms have been removed from the gunsmith shops, most of which have been closed, to prevent the strikers obtaining weapons.

Seeking Places of Safety.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—(Bulletin)—Thousands of strikers are assembling in Nevsky Prospect. Outgoing trains today are carrying the wives and children of prominent citizens to places of safety.

Lighting Plants Closed.
Moscow, Jan. 24.—The gas and electric light works are closed by the strike. The printers are also striking. The workmen marched out in an orderly manner.

Demands are Legitimate.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The revolt is spreading, especially in the Moscow district. The employees of the Kachurshin Michailoff, Emilinder and Schraeder factories have joined the strike. Three hundred and fifty bar-risters who have made a thorough investigation of the demands of the workmen, declare the demands entirely legitimate.

A Few Printers at Work.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—Some of the government printers resumed work this morning. Workmen are strolling the streets in small groups. The electric works are no manned by military electricians.

Stole Russian Coorplate.
London, Jan. 24.—An unknown man wrenched the brass name plate off the Russia embassy door last night.

Arranging for Help.
London, Jan. 24.—Labor leaders say communications have already been exchanged by the British, French, German and Belgian socialists to secure international aid in the way of moral support and material for the Russian strikers.

Tolstol to Issue a Letter.
St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The name of Count Tolstol is now associated with the strike propaganda. Father Gopon is an ardent follower of Tolstol which is the principal reason he is advising no violence. It is reported that a letter from Tolstol will be issued soon.

Czar is Greatly Worried.
Paris, Jan. 24.—Five correspondents of the French papers depict the Russian imperial family as prostrate with terror. The Czar is greatly worried, depicted and in an indecisive mood.

DAVY'S BILL

Fixing Railway Rates by the Commission

THE DEMOCRATS TAKE ACTION

Senate Passes Fortification Bill-- Smoot Hearing--Other Wash- ington News.

Washington, Jan. 24.—At a caucus attended by about 135 of the minority members of the house of representatives a resolution was agreed to by nearly a unanimous vote to support the bill introduced by Representative Davy of Louisiana, extending authority to the Interstate Commerce commission to fix railroad rates. The Davy bill is very short, providing only that when the commission shall find, after due hearing, a rate to be unreasonable, it shall name a reasonable rate in its place; that this rate shall go into effect after 20 days' notice, and shall remain in effect until set aside by a competent court of review; and that the case may be tried in any court taking jurisdiction, upon the facts and testimony adduced before the commission.

Another futile attempt was made in senate to have a time fixed for voting on the statehood bill. The opposing senators expressed an unwillingness to vote on the bill until the amendments shall have been disposed of, and Mr. Beveridge would not consent to vote on them without an agreement extending to the bill itself. The fortifications bill was passed after rejection of the amendment striking out the provision for insular fortifications.

Smoot Refused to Testify.
Washington, Jan. 24.—The senate investigation into the protests against Senator Reed Smoot will be closed this week. The cross-examination of the respondent terminated earlier than expected, and several other witnesses for the defense were examined. It was announced just before adjournment of the committee on privileges and elections that only a few more witnesses would be put on the stand. The cross-examination of Senator Smoot resulted in his absolute refusal to testify in regard to the endowment ceremonies. He also asserted that it was not his business to call to account President Smith of the Mormon church, because Mr. Smith had admitted to the committee that he was living in violation of the laws of the land. Three other witnesses refused to divulge the character of the endowment ceremonies.

Collecting Dominican Customs.
Washington, Jan. 24.—The state department is working out the details of the agreement touching the administration of the finances of San Domingo, and some of these will be made operative within a month. Mr. Abbott is collecting the customs at Puerto Plata and other experts in customs affairs will be stationed by the United States at Monte Cristi, Azua, Macoris and other principal ports to exercise a general supervision over Dominican customs collections, keep close watch on accounts and gradually surround themselves by corps of reliable and efficient subordinates to insure an honest administration.

GOVERNMENT

Of Mexico Will Take Prompt Action to Avenge Murder of four Americans by Yaquis.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 24.—The Mexican government will take prompt action to avenge the murder of the four Americans who were assassinated in Sonora last week by a band of Yaqui Indians. Francisco Mader, diplomatic representative of Mexico, at this point has ordered the government of Sonora to capture and punish the murderers. He received a reply saying that troops had pursued the Indians into the mountains with every prospect of capture. Marshall Wright, an American mine owner of Sonora, came here Monday to enlist cooperation in an appeal to the United States government to protect its citizens in Mexico. He declares hundreds of Americans there are in peril.

THREW JEWELRY

INTO OHIO RIVER

Whitney W. Va. Jan. 24.—Hurt and his brother, George, of Port Republic, were arrested this morning on the charge of robbing Gentler's drug store. They were being pursued across the Ohio river when they threw a tinful of jewelry worth $25,000 into the river.

LA FOLLETTE

Choice of Wisconsin Republican Legislators for U. S. Senator.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—Governor Robert LaFollette was nominated for United States senator by the Republican caucus to succeed Joseph V. Quarles. The caucus vote resulted: LaFollette, 69; Quarles, 26; Webb, 10.

Esch, 4; Connor, 2. Only one ballot was taken. All opposition to Governor LaFollette ceased when the offer of Quarles' supporters to combine with other candidates was refused. The actual strength of LaFollette in caucus was more than 65 votes, as the Webb, Esch and Connor votes would have gone to LaFollette if he had needed them, it is said. Martin L. Lueck is the minority choice for senator. Senator Quarles' present term expires March 3, 1905.

Committee For Niedringhaus.
Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 24.—The members of the Republican state central committee met in this city and adopted a resolution calling upon the Republican members of the general assembly to support Thomas K. Niedringhaus for United States senator.

CORRUPT POLITICS

Subject of Talk Given by William J. Bryan at Editorial Meeting in the East.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 24.—At a dinner given the Connecticut Editorial association William J. Bryan spoke on corruption in politics, and declared that "Connecticut has as large a venal vote as any state in the Union." He said that the condition of politics in this state, so far as the purchase of votes was concerned, was second only to that in Indiana. Mr. Bryan said he believed the time had come when the press and the pulpit should form an alliance to combat the prostitution of the electoral franchise.

RUSSIAN ADMIRAL

Attacks General Stoessel and Says the Russians Destroyed Ships at Port Arthur.

Tokyo, Jan. 24.—A Russian admiral who has just joined the prisoners from Port Arthur now in Japan has given an extended statement covering the defense and surrender of the fortress. He characterizes the surrender before the garrison had reached its extremity as a disgrace, bitterly criticizes General Stoessel and lands General Kondratenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian rifle regiment, as the true hero of the defense of Port Arthur. The admiral said that Vice Admiral Makarov, who commanded the Russian squadron at Port Arthur and who went down with the battleship Petropavlovsk on April 12, dictated the policy of inactivity on the part of the squadron. The admiral admits that bitter friction existed between the army and navy, and intimates that there is a probability of inquiry into this matter by the government. He insists that the Russians destroyed their warships at Port Arthur beyond any possibility of being captured by the Japanese.

Japanese Repulsed.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—General Rennenkampf reports that the Russian army repulsed Japanese attacks at the battle of Sushan and Monday. The Japanese suffered with 200 dead and wounded.

Mrs. Duke Arrested.

New York, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Anna Duke, who is charged with the attempt to kill the president, was arrested this morning on a warrant from Texas and will be held in a New York jail.

NEWS OF OHIO

Canal Syndicate Files Its Answer

APPELAYARD RECEIVERSHIP

Veteran Engineer Killed--Gas and Electric Merger--Factory Fire

--Ohio Briefs.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—In their answer to Attorney T. H. Johnson's sensational cross-petition in the Miami and Erie Transportation company litigation the original 14 members of the canal syndicate claim that Johnson's knowledge of the facts and his acquiescence in them deprived him of any right he might have "in law, in fact, or in good conscience," to complain in any way. W. H. Hayden swears to the facts in behalf of the defendants.

The pleadings set up the claim that the original 14 took only what belonged to them in the form of "consideration for their services" performed in projecting the deal. W. H. Lamprecht, for himself and others, entered into the original agreement with Forryce, it is stated, by which the canal franchise was obtained. The exact amount of "consideration" that the original 14 admit they were to receive is, according to their own statement, $250,000 in par value of stock, 240 of the gold bonds, plus the shares of common stock that accompanied the bond sales to subscribers. This, they say, was but reasonable compensation. It is claimed that from the first that all the acts complained of by Johnson were performed under the direction and by the advice of "counsel learned in the law."

Appelyard Receivership.
Columbus, O., Jan. 24.—An effort may be made this week to start negotiations looking toward raising the receivership in the Appelyard traction properties. At a dinner at Dayton Thursday night, which leading traction men of Ohio will attend, there will be a conference between the men who are interested in it. As yet the bondholders have not been brought into court, and none of them so far as known have as yet done anything looking towards becoming parties to the suits already instituted. In case the receiverships are continued the bondholders must step in to protect their interests.

Veteran Engineer Killed.
Columbus, O., Jan. 24.—John E. Beckwith of 821 North Fourth street, this city, one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the Pennsylvania road, was instantly killed at Bradford Junction, O. A freight train jumped the track paralleling his train and toppled over against his engine, crushing him to death. Beckwith was driving No. 20, the Chicago and New York limited. He was the only person injured.

Gas and Electric Merger.
Cincinnati, O., Jan. 24.—The Hamilton Gas and Coke company will absorb the Hamilton-Otto Coke company of Hamilton, O., and the municipal electric lighting plant of that city within the next few days. A formal agreement has already been entered into by the various interests and the details of the merger have been practically completed.

Big Factory Fire.
Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—Plant No. 1, covering three acres of ground of the Cleveland dryer works, a branch of the American Agricultural Chemical company, was destroyed by fire. The loss is placed at $100,000, with insurance covering a large portion of that sum. The cause of the fire has not been learned.

Wound Proves Fatal.
Cincinnati, O., Jan. 24.—John Wiles, 26, of North Bend, O., who was shot above the heart in James M. Frazier's saloon at Sokitan, O., by ex-Marshall Sherman McDaniels of Adytown, is dead, and a charge of murder will be placed against Daniels as soon as he is captured.

Domestic Tragedy.
Columbus, O., Jan. 24.—Gus Posturi, 24, was shot and fatally wounded by his brother-in-law, Tony Dancello, 18, a fruit dealer, the shooting taking place in an East Nighth street house, where the families resided. Family troubles the cause.

Petition in Bankruptcy.
Toledo, O., Jan. 24.—The creditors of the Strain & Gonn company, owners of the Erie store, filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy against the firm. The petition will amount to $150,000 and assets about $100,000.

Sent to an Asylum.
Waco, O., Jan. 24.—Grace Whitmer, a local school teacher, who shot her brother George Whitmer, will not have to answer for the crime. She has been released from custody and will be taken to a private sanitarium for mental treatment.

PHILANTHROPY IN 1904.

Of $46,296,980 Bestowed in Charity Carnegie Gave Nearly One-fourth.

While the donations of 1904 by actual gift and bequest to charity, religious and educational institutions, libraries, museums, galleries and municipal betterments have fallen off considerably, being but $46,296,980 as compared with $76,934,978 in 1903, $77,397,167 in 1902 and $123,888,732 in 1901, the record breaking year, the total amount remains large, says a Chicago dispatch. The decrease is partly accounted for by the abatement of Mr. Carnegie's library fervor and by much smaller amounts given by multimillionaires. The total given above includes only such donations or bequests as have been published. Of the total amount for the year the donations are $20,000,807 and the bequests $26,296,173. These sums have been divided as follows: To charities, $16,752,278; to religious enterprises, $5,842,809; to museums and art galleries, $308,000; to libraries, $1,541,390; to educational institutions, $21,235,452.

Mr. Carnegie's share in the beneficence has been $11,243,230, or about a fourth. He has given for libraries $250,860. To educational institutions Mr. Carnegie has given as follows: Educational alliance, $25,000; Atlanta university, $25,000; Dickinson college, $50,000; for a manual training school at Boston, $540,000; Clark university, $100,000; Kemper college, $50,000; Mount Holyoke seminary, $50,000; Pittsburgh Carnegie institute, $50,000. For miscellaneous purposes: Church organs, $7,570; New York Legal Aid society, $1,000; charities, $80,000; Arbitration league, $5,000; Hero fund, $5,000,000.

Mr. Rockefeller's beneficences have amounted to $1,401,000, as follows: Dennison college, $100,000; Brown university, $5,000; University of Chicago, $305,000; religious institutions, $51,000; charities, $1,000,000.

Dr. D. K. Pearson has given $225,000.

Ninety-six colleges have shared in the donation of $21,235,452.

INDIAN GIRL'S AMBITION.

She Studies Law to Champion Cause of Her Race in Courts.

To be the first Indian woman to study law is the ambition of Miss Laura M. Cornelius, who is now in Los Angeles, Cal., getting ready to enter the law department of Stanford university, says a special dispatch from Los Angeles to the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

With that end in view, she has resigned her position as a teacher in the Sherman Indian school. She is the Oneida girl who, when the Warner's ranch Indians would have risen in insurrection against the order for their removal, went among them, a cultured woman of the world, and led them, peaceably and sadly, to the home of their exile.

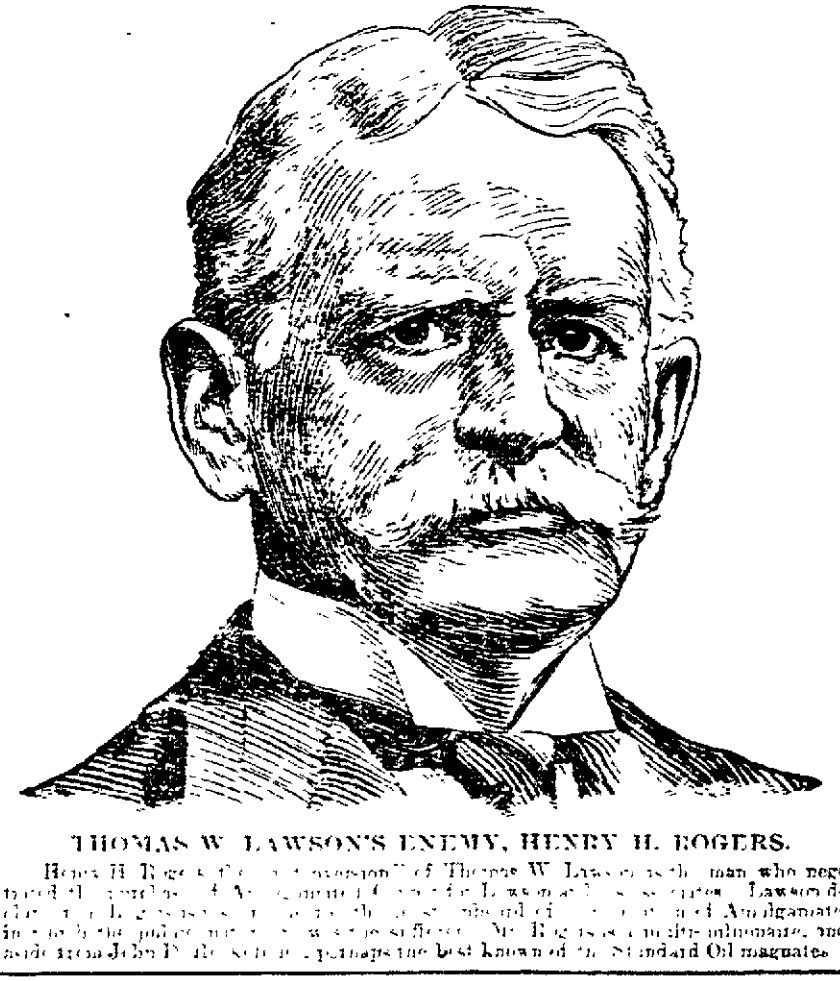

With a true Indian hatred of notoriety, she insists that she is studying law for no other purpose than to learn something. But to her inner circle of friends she has confided a heroic purpose in taking up Blackstone.

She wants to learn law in order that she may go from tribe to tribe teaching her pathetic people their rights under the white man's law and championing their cause in the courts and at Washington.

MISS ROGERS

Writes the Advocate from Her New Location in California Where Spring Prevails.

Stockton, Calif., Jan. 16.—The Newark Advocate is a welcome visitor to our home. How eagerly we read the items from the Hebron circuit, only these far from home know. We see you have snow and snow drifts. We can scarcely realize it. Here we have balmy skies. The thermometer registered 35 in the sun and 63 in the shade on the first of January. The birds are singing their merriest lays, the fields are clothed with verdure, the trees have their spring dress, the roses, lilies and violets are blooming in the yards, and there is little winter here. True, the nights are cold, yet a small fire in the kitchen renders the house comfortable. We have white frosts but the geraniums—even the slips we brought from Ohio—are doing nicely in the yard. The nasturtiums and the century plants are untouched. We have lettuce, onions, peas, beets, and sweet peas growing nicely, and we can give our Ohio friends, when they visit us, early spring chickens—hatched December 31.

The orange and persimmon, with their golden and red fruit, are a delight to the eye. We weighed a sprig on which were three persimmons and it weighed one and one-half pounds, and one persimmon measured 3 1/2 inches in circumference. Papa supplies a small charge "Acampo" his health is much improved. The Arampo and people are very kind to us.

The members of papa's church sent us a fine Thanksgiving dinner, consisting of dressed chickens, nuts, oranges, apples, a 100-pound pumpkin, canned and dried California fruits. On Christmas day they sent a dressed turkey, two boxes (sixteen dozen) oranges, nuts, candy, &c. The gentlemen for whom the boys work, also sent presents consisting of candy, nuts, apples and toys for the children, and ice cream for Christmas dinner. People vie with one another to make California pleasant for us. Truly, this is a wonderful state. One of papa's members has a charming home. He has fruits of all kinds—immense cherries, peaches, blue and white figs, grapes of several varieties, among them raisins and Tokay grapes, his own olive and olive oil. The Tokay grape is the finest fruit we have seen. There is one cluster at the Chamber of Commerce building that weighs 14 pounds. We have had clusters that weigh five pounds. He also has English walnut and almonds. An extensive rose garden, lilies, violets, carnations and a host of other varieties of flowers.

The first of December papa gathered blue figs from the tree and almost at its foot gathered luscious strawberries. The sportsman would have exulted in the sight we saw yesterday. Over one thousand wild geese went over our house in less than one hour. We see flocks of them every day.

I enclose a list of questions used at the last teachers' examination held in San Joaquin county. I was a successful applicant at his examination. About one-third of the applicants were successful. I ranked fourth. The examination lasted from Monday morning at 8 o'clock until Friday evening until 10 o'clock. Only one examination per year, and one grade for life—so you see I have a "life certificate." It is arranged so several counties beside San Joaquin recognize it and permit my teaching in them. Wages are high—from $60 to $85 per month, and from eight to ten months. Yours, IQUISE V. W. ROGERS.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Newark Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Newark readers.

G. W. Harter, living at Thornville, R. F. D. No. 3, well known in Newark, Cal., says: For several years I suffered with a complication of kidney, rheumatic and urinary troubles, and physicians could not help me. In spite of all the medicine I used I grew continually worse. My back became so weak I could scarcely get about and there was a constant dull heavy aching in the small of the back, varied with occasional sharp shooting twinges like knife thrusts that almost paralyzed me. I expected that I would never be able to get rid of the trouble but in talking about my case with Mr. Crayton, the Newark druggist, he advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, saying he had known of many of his customers who had used Doan's Kidney Pills for the same trouble and had found great relief. I got a box from him, went home and began using them. To make a long story short, they cured me and the cure has been a permanent one. I have had no more backache, my back is strong, the kidney secretions are regular and normal, and I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.

AN EXPERT IN HIS FIELD.

James R. Garfield, Commissioner of Corporations, and His Career.

James Rudolph Garfield, whose report as commissioner of corporations in the department of commerce and labor has received much attention, was not chosen for his important post simply because he is a son of the "martyr president," James A. Garfield. He was selected because he had shown special fitness for it. Shortly after Mr. Roosevelt became president he had to fill a vacancy in the national civil service commission and called in several members of the commission to take dinner and discuss the matter. During the meal Mrs. Roosevelt remarked: "I know just the man for civil service commissioner."

"Who?" said the president. Mrs. Roosevelt named young Garfield.

"Just the person," said her husband after a moment's thought. "He is the right man for the right place. I will appoint him."

JAMES RUDOLPH GARFIELD.

In this way, "Senator," I have decided to appoint James R. Garfield a civil service commissioner.

"You say you have decided to appoint him?" questioned Mr. Hanna. The president nodded. "Well, then, I guess it's too late for me to object," replied Mr. Hanna, with a smile.

Mr. Garfield's duties as civil service commissioner brought him in touch with Mr. Knox, then attorney general, who recognized his ability in problems pertaining to corporations. Mr. Knox told the president he wanted him as one of his assistants in antitrust legislation. Mr. Roosevelt replied that if Garfield were such a good man as that he would make him commissioner of corporations.

Commissioner Garfield is thirty-nine years of age. His hair is tinged with gray, and he has a frank smile and a sturdy frame. In physique and temperament he is said to resemble his father strongly.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S AMBITION.

To Clear Her Name and Recover Her Two Children.

Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Maybrick entitles the story of her life which she has recently completed "My Fifteen Lost Years." In it she gives the history of her prosecution on the charge of poisoning her husband, her long imprisonment, her sufferings and her release and presents fully her own side of the famous case.

Mrs. Maybrick says that she was averse to writing a book about her experiences, but was led to do so for several reasons. One of these was the desire to tell from her own point of view how British justice is administered and point out the crying need for a British court of appeals in criminal cases.

Another reason for writing the book was her desire to vindicate her character from all reproach not only in the eyes of the world, but in the eyes of her two children, James and Gladys, whom she has never once seen and with whom she has not been allowed to communicate since the time when she was charged with causing her husband's death. They have been brought up by her father-in-law, Michael Maybrick, in the belief that she killed their father and are living, she knows not where, under assumed names. Her one great desire now is to recover the children to whom she has long been as dear.

COSHOCTON

Now Boasts of 3876 People, a Gain of Thirty Per Cent in Past Four Years.

Coshocton, Jan. 24.—The population of Coshocton is exactly 3,876, according to the special enumeration taken by the Coshocton Age. The census taking required just two weeks, and was conducted by J. D. Stevens.

It is of interest to note that Coshocton's population today is 7,656 within the old corporation limits that gave a return of 6,466 in the federal count of 1900, and that 600 people dwell in the immediate suburbs and ends of streets that project out over that invisible line known as the corporation.

The difference between 6,466 and 3,876 is 1910—a splendid gain in a little more than four years. Few towns in the state of Ohio can show a like growth. Coshocton's percentage of growth in these four years has been just about 30 per cent. It has added a third to its population.

The prospects for the future are even brighter. The year 1905 promises to be one unprecedented prosperity with a new factory of fifty lands about ready to start business and others in sight and all the local factories planning for increased forces.

Blood flowed freely from a wound on the ankle of his right leg and it was at first supposed that he had been cut by the ax. He was assisted to his home and Drs. W. L. Jackson and W. E. Wiyarch were called. who, upon examination found that the wound which was quite an extensive one, had been produced by the broken edge of the bottle and not by the ax. It required twelve stitches to close the wound.

The Election Contest in Colorado.

Governor Adams of Colorado, has replied to the allegations of ex-Governor Peabody in the contest which is now being carried on before the State Legislature over the recent gubernatorial election. Governor Adams alleges that in one county no less than 2,000 foreigners, who were imported to take the place of miners, were illegally naturalized and permitted to vote for Peabody. In another county, he asserts, a large number of armed men patrolled the polling places and prevented many votes being cast for him. He also declares that several thousand citizens were driven from their homes by the military of the State, or by State officials, and were not able to vote. Besides this, frauds were committed in the election counts.

Governor Adams presents a strong case, and he will no doubt be able to bring much evidence to support it. There is also no doubt that notwithstanding whatever frauds may have been perpetrated in his interest in Denver the result of a full and fair investigation of the whole election throughout the State would show a large legal majority in his favor. This fact will probably be recognized by a majority of the Legislature. The fair-minded Republicans who are members of that body will in all likelihood join with the Democratic members in sustaining Governor Adams' title when all the evidence has been heard. The great fear expressed by the Peabody supporters that the seating of Governor Adams would result in anarchy has been proved to be wholly unjustified by the result. Everything is peaceful in Colorado, and will continue so unless the grave injustices is committed of forcing Peabody into a position from which he was fairly deposed by a popular vote.

It seems highly probable that the revolutionary proceedings in St. Petersburg will have an important effect on the war with Japan. The necessity for the keeping in Russia of a great army will be accentuated by the bloody events within the empire, while at the same time those events will greatly increase the dissatisfaction of the people over the sending of reservists to Manchuria. As the situation now appears in Russia it seems improbable that Kuropatkin can be sufficiently reinforced to enable him to outnumber the forces which the Japanese will be able to bring against him. The condition of affairs in Japan is so radically different from the situation in Russia that the Mikado, instead of having to keep a great army to protect himself from his own people, can send practically all his soldiers to Manchuria if he should deem it necessary or advisable to do so.

A silver tobacco pipe with a stem 10 inches long is used by the Empress of Japan. The bowl is small—in fact only a quantity of tobacco sufficient to give the smoker two or three whiffs can be put into it. Then the ashes are knocked out, and the pipe is carefully cleaned before it is refilled—a process gone through many times in the course of an afternoon.

In spite of strong efforts made to increase poultry culture in England the importation of eggs has again increased during the last year, amounting in value to $2,064,800, as against $29,420,000 during the year 1902.

CANAL GRAB

Electric Mule Promoters to Ask Legislature

FOR FAVORS AT NEXT SESSION

Secret Contract Exposed—Company Agreed to Turn Its Franchise Over.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 21.—Another effort is to be made next winter to grab the canals of the state, and particularly the Miami and Erie canal. The last legislature was asked to turn the Miami and Erie canal over to a syndicate, but after a hard fight the movement was defeated by the citizens and taxpayers who have the good of the commonwealth at heart.

The Cincinnati Post has just completed a thorough investigation of the canal situation, past and present, and as it will affect the future, and in a two-page story the questionable dealings of "electric mule" promoters, leading politicians and state officers are laid bare.

In its introduction to the sensational disclosures the Post says: "Public announcement has been made that the canal grabbers will again attempt to seize the state's property."

"Attorney Andrew Squire of Cleveland, representing the northern Ohioans interested in the Miami and Erie Canal Transportation company, through holding its stocks and bonds, says the reorganization of the concern will be upon legislation to be sought next winter."

"He is qualified to speak for the grabbers, for he has been conspicuous as their attorney and personally appeared before the last legislature in behalf of the steal."

"After repeated assaults upon the State property, the light of publicity is being turned upon the secret machinations of the canal grabbers."

"Decisive action taken in Cleveland last week, charging conspiracy against the syndicate which launched the Miami and Erie Canal Transportation company, and the numerous hearings before Referee C. W. Fuller of Cleveland, disclose the connection of the Cincinnati politicians with the proposition in its incipency."

"Sworn statements and contracts indicate the amounts involved in the transaction at its various stages of development."

"A signed document sets forth the negotiation of the signatures of a governor and an attorney general of the state of Ohio, and affixes the value thereof at $50,000 cash and $750,000 in stock."

"The revelations further show that the electric mule combination never intended the operation of canal boats by electricity as their ultimate proposition. The sale of the property and rights received from the state for nothing were to be turned over to a gigantic terminal scheme for steam and interurban railways."

"A secret contract was actually passed and a company formed to receive this privilege, worth millions."

The Post then details the history of the attempt to work the colossal grab through legislatures. It tells how W. C. Wagenhals secured the passage of a bill authorizing a contract for propelling canal boats by electricity, but which really carried with it the right to build a steam road on the canal banks. Attorney Harry R. Probasco, who has been a consistent fighter of canal grabbers, opposed the measure and succeeded in having Governor Bushnell refuse his approval unless the contract expressly prohibited the use of the canal banks for steam railroad purposes. Wagenhals frankly stated he did not want the franchise with such a provision incorporated.

Then Thomas N. Fordyce, a Detroit promoter, appeared on the scene, "and on April 25, 1898, the legislature passed an act authorizing the state board of public works to experiment with the electric propulsion of canal boats, and, if successful, to contract for the use of the canal banks for that purpose for 30 years. The experiments were made north of Miamisburg, where a streetcar line parallels the canal. Ten miles were to be used for the purpose, but only this strip was utilized. A canal boat was attached to a streetcar and it was found that it moved."

"Fordyce then began to float his enterprise. Testimony before the referee indicates that he went to George B. Cox. In any event, he soon had Cox, his financial lieutenant, County Commissioner and Auditor-elect C. C. Richardson, and former Secretary of State Dan J. Ryan interested."

Interest just now centers in the contract, or secret agreement, between Fordyce and C. C. Richardson of Cincinnati, who acted for Cox and the others in the matter. This agreement was produced before Referee Fuller in court proceedings, by W. H. Lamprecht, a Cleveland capitalist, and the sensational contract exposes the whole game, and is as follows:

"(a)—Said Lamprecht hereby pays to said Fordyce the sum of $75,000, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged.

"(b)—Said Fordyce shall within 30 days from the date hereof obtain the signatures and approval of the governor and attorney general of the state of Ohio to said resolution of Feb. 20, 1901, and in event that said signatures shall be so obtained then said Lamprecht shall, in addition to the $75,000 payment heretofore provided for, pay to C. C. Richardson or the nominees of said Richardson on or before March 1, 1902, the further sum of $50,000, with interest at 6 per cent, and shall also deliver to C. C. Richardson or his nominees 25 per cent of the capital stock of any corporation or corporations now or hereafter organized by said Lamprecht for the purpose of developing the rights granted under said contracts and resolutions and connected with the development of traction power throughout the length of the Miami and Erie canal, or in any other corporation organized by him and growing out of the completion, development or extension of said rights hereby assigned to said Lamprecht by said Fordyce.

"Sec. 3. Unless said signatures of the governor and attorney general of Ohio are obtained to said copy of said resolution of Feb. 20, 1901, within the time above limited, said Lamprecht shall be subject to no obligation hereunder to make such further payment of $50,000 or to deliver said stock to said Richardson or his nominees, and said sum of $75,000 shall be payment in full for the rights, so assigned by said Fordyce to said Lamprecht."

"The agreement," says the Post, "is signed by Thomas N. Fordyce and William H. Lamprecht in the presence of Frank N. Wilcox and H. B. McGraw."

"Technically the signatures of Governor George K. Nash and Attorney General Sheets were not obtained until about a week after the three days had elapsed. The state board of public works executed the lease and contract with Fordyce for the canal banks between Cincinnati and Toledo March 26. It contained no provision for recompense to the state, save that the canal boats hauled should pay the usual tolls. As it was not the ultimate intention of the projectors to haul canal boats, it will be seen that the state actually lost money by the contract."

The Cleveland purchasers evidently did not hold out on the technicality of a few days in paying for the procuring of the signatures, as will be seen from the following letter sent by County Commissioner Richardson to Lamprecht:

"Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your favor of the 31st of July, which came to hand during my absence, and note what you say. Kindly issue the stock in certificates of 500 shares each, as follows: Three certificates in the name of C. C. Richardson, three in the name of Thomas N. Fordyce, three in the name of Daniel J. Ryan, and six in the name of George B. Cox, and mail them all to me here with the receipt or receipts that you desire signed, which I will have properly executed and returned to you."

The stock records of the company show that the certificates of stock mentioned, from Lamprecht to Richardson, and subsequently by Richardson to A. E. Fiehl, Fiehl was placed on the stand and he testified that the stock he held belonged to George B. Cox.

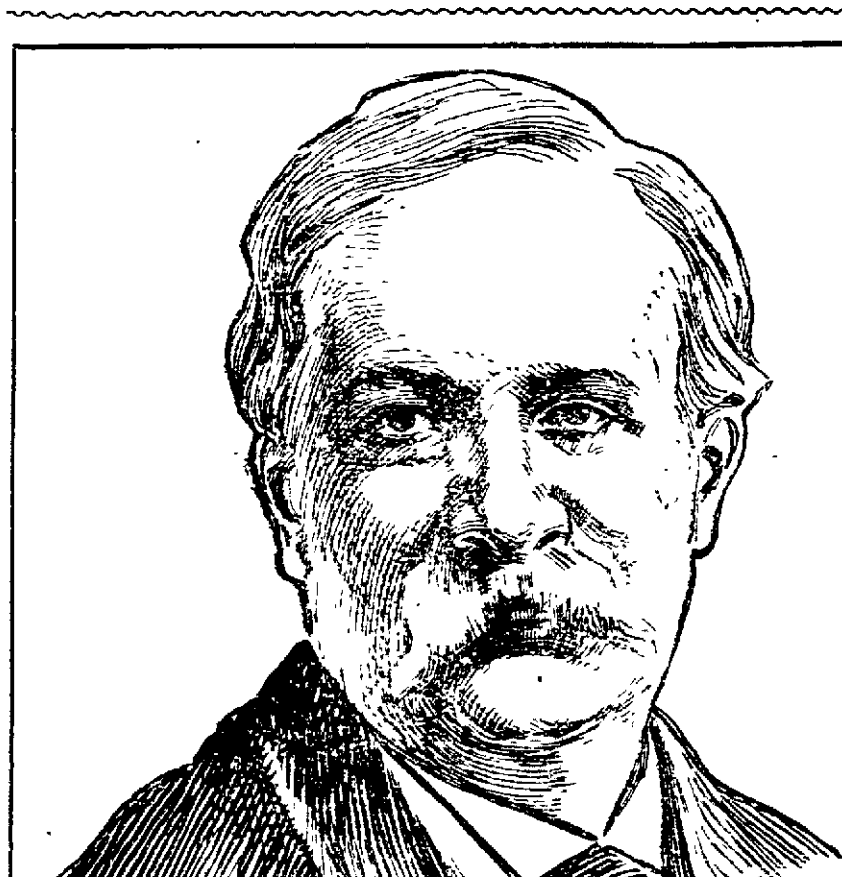

The Post says: "At the same hearing Otto Miller, secretary and treasurer of the M. & E. company, testified that he delivered the stock to Richardson."

"He stated that the $75,000 stipulated to be paid to Fordyce was, in fact, paid to Richardson."

"The manner in which Richardson broke up the stock would have made it possible to have given Cox $300,000 worth, Richardson $150,000, Ryan $150,000 and Fordyce $150,000, but the testimony of Fiehl indicates that Cox decided to keep it all."

"Here is where Governor Myron T. Herrick enters the stage."

"The stock record of the company shows that on March 18, 1902, the men in this syndicate transferred an equal portion of their holdings to Myron T. Herrick, 16 2-3 shares from each 1-11th of the total, and that on Oct. 6, 1902, Herrick transferred the interest he had received from the syndicate to H. C. Studley, who had been a clerk in

A True Tonic Not a Stimulant.

It is a medicine that revitalizes the exhausted nerve centres, gives strength and steadiness to the nervous system, elasticity and firmness to the muscles, and to the blood all the properties that go to make it rich and nourishing.

Dr. A. W. CHASE'S Nerve Pills are, beyond a doubt, the most successful Nerve Medicine on earth.

Good digestion, ruddy complexion, splendid circulation, clear brain, steady nerves, sound, restful sleep, better health and greater strength of mind and body is what you may expect from the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Not in any mysterious way, but from the hard fact that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are composed of the elements of nature which go to form new, red corpuscles in the blood, or, in other words make the blood rich in the nutritive principle which creates nerve force—the power which runs the machinery of the body.

With the vitality of the body thus brought to high water mark, weakness and disease give place to health and happiness.

Impaired digestion, irregular action of the feminine organism, weakness of heart, lungs or other bodily organs, pains and aches and all the annoying consequences of weak nerves and blood disappear, because the cause of their existence is removed.

ALL RUN DOWN.

Miss Elsa Faier of No. 43 Main St., Oneonta, New York, Says:

"Last summer I was in bad shape—all run down in health—no appetite and poor digestion—I did not sleep well and felt tired and languid all day. I was pale and the circulation was poor—I doctored all summer with no improvement. Seeing Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills recommended I got a box and used them and they thoroughly cured me—no more dullness or headaches—sleep sound and refreshing, appetite good, digestion perfect, blood rich, circulation good, color excellent, in fact, vigorous and strong in every way. I can't speak too highly of the medicine as it certainly is a good one."

GENERAL WEAKNESS.

Margaret Beedham of 526 Federal Street, Youngstown, Ohio, Says:

"I tried many medicines and doctors for nervous troubles, sleeplessness and general weakness with no result until I used Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Since then I sleep finely, eat well, have a good digestion and feel like a new woman in every way. I am no longer weak and nervous, but strong and vigorous and attend to my household duties with ease and pleasure. I consider them an elixir of life for nervous people, and a God-sent gift to the melancholy, sleepless brain."

the Society for Savings, which is Herrick's bank. A subpoena was issued for Studley, which disclosed the fact that he was dead.

"When an effort was made to get the testimony of Richardson and others of Cincinnati, Governor Herrick, D. J. Ryan and others, an injunction was sworn out and these parties escaped giving their testimony."

The Post shows how the "electric mule" company entered into a contract with the Cincinnati Terminal company, which was organized for the purpose of owning and operating tracks and terminal facilities within the city of Cincinnati and elsewhere within the county of Hamilton for the accommodation of street railways and railroads or railways to be operated by steam, electric or other power.

It is agreed that the Canal company, at any time within 10 years, upon the request in writing by the Terminal company, shall assign, transfer and convey all of the real estate and fixed property of the Canal company situated within the present or future corporate limits of the city of Cincinnati, to be owned, held and used by the said Terminal company for its uses and the purposes for which said company is incorporated. The Canal company reserves the right, without payment, to use the tracks and property of the Terminal company, and any future tracks that may be constructed upon the banks or in or over the bed of said canal."

Stripped of legal verbiage, it means that as soon as the Canal company gets the much sought "additional rights" from the legislature, it is to turn over all rights exclusively to the Terminal company.

All of which meant that if the "electric mule" company secured a railroad franchise, and that was the stake in the big game, the Terminal company was to succeed to them as far as Cincinnati was concerned.

"THE SIMPLE LIFE"

ANOTHER CHAPTER.

We have moved our real estate office to 32 West Main street, in the room formerly occupied by Showman Bros. and D. L. White as a grocery. In connection with our real estate and building, we have added the plumbing business, to be known as the "Newark Plumbing and Supply House."

We have been very careful to secure a competent and reliable man, one who understands sanitary plumbing thoroughly. We are able to do all kinds of plumbing promptly.

There is nothing that affords more pleasure or comfort in any home than good plumbing: while on the other hand there is no greater menace to health, nothing as expensive or annoying as poor plumbing.

Newark is certainly behind the times when it comes to sanitary conditions. We claim that the best is none too good, and we are firm believers that if a thing is worth doing at all, it should be done right and at the proper time.

We wish to say to our friends that your patronage will be appreciated, and we will give you good and prompt service.

"SILK RIBBON"

The Name of Fred Burrell's Cigar—Reason Given for Change From Blue Ribbon.

Mr. Fred Burrell has changed the name of his famous "Blue Ribbon" one of the best selling five cent cigars in Newark, and hereafter it will be called the "Silk Ribbon."

The change was made necessary by the fact that in 1878 the Blue Ribbon Cigar company of St. Louis, had this name registered, of which Mr. Burrell knew nothing until recently. The St. Louis firm's cigar is a 10 cent product, but upon notification Mr. Burrell deemed it wise to change the name. Although the name has been changed Mr. Burrell says the cigar will be the same excellent "smoke" as previously.

POLICE COURT

BUSINESS TRANSACTED TUESDAY BY MAYOR CRILLY.

Stickie Pleaded Not Guilty and Case Was Continued—Stranger Arrived Half Frozen.

Lee Stickie, who was arrested Monday afternoon for throwing stones through the front windows of J. C. Stock's billiard and pool room, West Main street, pleaded not guilty to malicious destruction of property, and his case was continued until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock by Mayor Crilly, his bond being fixed at $100 which he will probably give.

A stranger came to the city prison about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning in a half frozen condition, without a hat or overcoat. He was discharged and told to get out of town as soon as possible.

Charley Spence, a laborer, was arrested Monday afternoon for drunkenness, and taken to the city prison by Officers Zerriebe and Carroll. On the way down Spence became very abusive and Officer Carroll told him to "shut up" at the same time giving him a jerk on the arm. The officer's name was swinging loosely on his left wrist and accidentally came into contact with Spence's head, inflicting a slight scalp wound. The prisoner fled profusely and some who saw the man afterward were very outspoken about the brutality of the police making the arrest. As a matter of fact the occurrence was purely accidental and the fellow was not hurt in the least. There is no man on the force who is more humane under all circumstances than Pat Carroll, and this explanation is made to absolve him from any blame in the matter of those who saw the episode. Spence was fined $5 and costs.

Punishment for Papa.

Mrs. Blum—When my husband came home last night I saw that he had been drinking, and I gave him a good scolding.

Mrs. Wilson—Oh, dear! What did you do that for? When I discovered that my husband had been drinking, I was not angry, but gave him the baby to hold. It is really painful to see how devoted he is to the baby. My dear, you do not have to fear about the punishment of papa.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. In stamping for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SAYS HE'S A BLUEBEARD

Chicago, Jan. 24.—That John Hoch, whom the police allege to be a modern Bluebeard, is not an expert chemist, and may possess knowledge of a secret poison, was the declaration of Police Inspector Shipley. The inspector says he has evidence that Hoch was a druggist some years ago, and compounded many poisons. "This man is poisoning me," are the words Mrs. William Steinbocker told the police her mother-in-law spoke shortly before death 10 years ago. The dead woman is said to have married Hoch about 10 years ago, and to have been taken suddenly ill two months after the wedding. Mrs. Steinbocker told Inspector Shipley that after her mother-in-law's death property valued at $1,000 was disposed of by Hoch.

A Grim Tragedy is daily enacted in thousands of homes as death claims in each one, another victim of consumption or pneumonia. But when coughs and colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. MRS. MARGUERITE M. SPRINGER

Former Resident of Newark is to Conduct a Monthly Magazine, Having Purchased "Wayside Tales" of Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Warren Springer, formerly Miss Marguerite Maginness of Newark, with Murray Schloff of Detroit, has purchased the "Wayside Tales" magazine, which went into bankruptcy last month, at the sale conducted by the order of Judge Kolliant in the Athenaeum building. Mrs. Springer is a well known society and club woman. She has been engaged in literary work since she was very young, and is a contributor to many leading magazines. She has been on the staff of the "Wayside Tales" since its inception five years ago, and was one of the stockholders in the company. Mr. Schloff, who will conduct the magazine with Mrs. Springer, is a graduate of the University of Chicago.

The foregoing message from Chicago relates to a former popular young woman of this city, Miss Marguerite Maginness, daughter of Mr. John Maginness. Mrs. Springer was graduated from the Newark high school and while here was known as a very bright young woman. The following is taken from the Chicago Inter-Ocean telling of the part Mrs. Springer took in a Chicago club meeting:

"It's the 'wasms' and 'isms' that are perplexing the minds of sages and saddening the hearts of philanthropists. 'We have conquered all the real obstacles of our environment, but are still dividing the people into good and bad people and the Christianity of all the good people seems to be to make the bad people good or kill them off in the attempt.'"

"There is enough material idle in the land to supply the needs of man for 100 years to come, and while hundreds of strong men stand workless, women and children are wearing themselves out prematurely in the struggle for subsistence."—Mrs. Warren Springer in the Social Economics Club.

Through eight consecutive hours club women discussed in Handel hall "Is Human Nature What Environment Makes It?"—and then reached no decision.

It was reciprocity day with the Social Economics club and eight vice-presidents throughout the state were represented in the debate, the speakers being limited to three minutes each.

While many of the women held that environment was essentially and indisputably the lever that controls the human, a number blamed heredity for all the lapses of individuals.

Dr. Francis Dickinson, president of the Social Economics club, thought proper food and shelter were the requisites for producing men superior to their environments, while Mrs. Warren Springer created a mild sensation by charging society, science, political economists, and preachers with being the originators and propagators of many of the worst phases of social and industrial environments.

Mrs. Springer, who represented the Daughters of the Revolution, said:

"The scrub oak of society is the hungry man. A hungry man, like a tiger, is a dangerous animal. We realize that something must be done. What do we? We have police to protect us from the hungry man, judges to convict him, jails and prisons in which to house him and preachers to preach how easy it is for the criminal to pass through the eye of a needle etc., and thereby pacify him. Next comes a score of political economists to show the hungry fellow that it couldn't be otherwise."

"Science says that the struggle for existence is a natural law, consequently we have able bodied hungry scrub oaks—million men out of employment—and instead of letting them produce for their need, we clothe, we feed, and we shelter them."

"We do this through charity, through pity, and through pity. We tell them the reason they are hungry is because they have produced too much food, the reason they have no shoes is because they have made too many shoes, the reason they have no coal is because they have mined too much coal, no clothes, because they have manufactured too much cloth."

"This is a very curious thing, the theory of compensation. It is evident that the only compensation is the generous and noble use of the philosophy of having one portion of society contribute and the other portion enjoying its need as the philosophy of ignorance and waste."

"The 'wasms' and 'isms' that are perplexing the minds of sages and saddening the hearts of philanthropists. 'We have conquered all the real obstacles of our environment, but are still dividing the people into good and bad people, and the Christianity of all the good people seems to be to make the bad people good or kill them off in the attempt.'"

CO-OPERATIVE STORES

President Mitchell's Address to the Miners' Convention Held in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—In a brief address to the miners' convention, just before adjournment, President Mitchell referred to the co-operative store movement, which will be one of the pronounced developments of the miners' organization during the coming year. He advised them to go into the venture carefully and with all precaution. One of the suggestions was that each treasurer should be compelled to provide suitable bond, not because any wrongful actions might be anticipated, but as a measure of protection.

Sixteen Per Cent Secured by Mortgage

Messrs. Alva W. Wilcox and K. A. Bolton of this city, have secured an option on the land abutting the United States navy yard at Charleston, S. C., from the Chicora company of Norfolk, Va., with all of its improvements of sewer, water, trees and granolithic sidewalks. This is the most complete monopoly in real estate that could be arranged. This property is situated about five miles from Charleston, the street car runs through its entire length, and within five years nearly five thousand mechanics will be employed by the government, or as nearly as many as all the factories in the city of Newark combined. At the present time there is not a dwelling within five miles of the navy yard, except negro cottages. The property secured abuts on the navy yard four thousand four hundred feet, and the gate of the yard opened into it. The history of all navy yards has been that they create cities about them in a very few years, as can be ascertained by referring to the yards at Newport News and Puget Sound.

By these terms of their contract they have bound themselves to raise $30,000 for the purpose of erecting

We can offer to subscribers a 16 per cent investment secured by mortgage on real estate with the additional added security that property mortgaged will be the first improved by building on the same with the money subscribed. We have made a personal investigation of this property and been able to tell Mr. Wilcox desires to meet a number of good mechanics of the different building trades of this city who might be desirous of going south as steady employment the year around is made possible.

Parties desiring further information on this matter may call at our office No. 11 1-2 east side of square, where we have pictures of the property and the navy yard.

AMUSEMENTS

Happy comedy and lots of it is to be found in the newest comedy drama, "Uncle Josh Perkins." The play is by Lew B. Parker, whose name is to be found attached to many successful productions that have pleased our theatre goers for the past several seasons. Auditorium, Wednesday, Jan. 25, matinee or night.

HEART OF TEXAS.

The Cortland, New York, Standard says: "Last night 'The Heart of Texas' was presented at the opera house by Allan Villair, Pearl Lewis and a very good company. The play is a genuine thriller and yet it contains lines and scenes of the highest dramatic excellence; it tells a vivid heart story of love, hatred and jealousy, disclosing the extremes of human desires and passions. Some of the startling incidents are the attack by a mad wolf, the attempt to blow up Jack with dynamite, the realistic den scene, where Jack and Texas are surrounded by a murderous lot of ruffians and engage in a thrilling fight for life and the robbery in the last act. The comedy is rich and plenty, the dialogue crisp, but clean, and the whole teaches a good moral lesson to the young and old. Allan Villair as Jack, was the ideal, picturesque hero, who fears nothing, and very pretty Pearl Lewis was a close second as the vivacious Texas. She also did a clever specialty. The balance of the company was competent and the scenery very pretty."

The above attraction appears for one night only, Friday, January 27, at the Auditorium.

RONEY'S BOYS COMING.

Next Saturday evening at Taylor Hall an entertainment of special interest will be given. Mr. R. P. Williams who will during the coming month present a series of popular Saturday night attractions at this hall, will have the Roney Boys Concert company of Chicago here for the initial entertainment. Roney's Boys are known here as they are all over the country, but to those who may not know this famous organization it may be said that it was Roney's Boys whom President Roosevelt selected for his Christmas entertainment at the White House in 1902. The general admission for this Saturday night concert will be 25 cts., with 10 cts. extra for reserved seats. Seats will be on sale at the Y. M. C.

A. office beginning Thursday morning, Jan. 26, at 2 o'clock.

THE LYMAN TWINS.

It is announced that the famous comedians "The Lyman Twin Brothers" will appear at the Auditorium on Saturday, January 28, in their latest and greatest musical comedy success, "At the Races." This excellent company with its beautiful scenic equipment, numerous wonderful mechanical and electrical effects together with one of the strongest casts today in musical comedy, comprising a retty chorus, wonderful dancers and clever comedians producing original novelties will give one of the most pleasing entertainments of the season. The costumes are superb and together with the dazzling effects used in the numerous specialties including the poppy girl dance, the country maidens, and the charming daisy girls, you are sure of an ovation seldom seen here. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seat sale will open Tuesday, January 24.

A MESSAGE FROM MARS.

"Charles Hawtreys is an admirable comedian. His method is easy, finished and graceful. He is extremely magnetic, refined in style, simple and unaffected in manner, charming in delivery. His introduction was successful in all matters. Before the play had ended, Charles Hawtreys had won an enviable place in the esteem of our public."—New York Press.

"A Message from Mars" with Chas. Hawtreys will be at the Auditorium on Friday, February 2.

MISS BOB WHITE.

Willard Spenser, author of "Miss Bob White," "Princess Bonnie" and "The Little Tycoon," all three of which have been tremendous successes, the first named to be seen here shortly, has the proud distinction of having placed Frank Daniels, who is now starring in the highly successful musical farce, "The Office Boy," in the musical line. Daniels made his first attempt at opera as Shrimps in Spenser's "Princess Bonnie."

Miss Bob White is coming to the Auditorium soon.

SHO-GUN AT SOUTHERN.

The much talked of "Sho-Gun," the comic opera written by George Ade, famous for his "Fables in Slang" with music by Gustave Luders who furnished the score for such successes as "King Dodo," "Woodruff" and "Prince of Pilsen," will be seen at the Great Southern theatre, Columbus on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 31, and February 1, with a matinee on Wednesday. "The Sho-Gun" has been called the witliest, brightest bit of stage-writing that George Ade has produced and its originality of plot, sparkling wit and pointed satire have been the means of making "The Sho-Gun" the most popular of the Ade operas. The story of "The Sho-Gun" concerns the adventures of a wealthy American, who having become wealthy, desires to get into society, but is barred because he lacks ancestry and a family tree. He goes to Korea to get them even if he has to buy them. He arrives in time to save the widow of a former "Sho-Gun," as the ruler of the island is called, from being offered as a sacrifice. The widow had never seen her husband, having been married by proxy and doesn't relish the role of a sacrifice offering, and as she is pretty the American considers it unnecessary to allow the ceremony to proceed. He meets trouble but being an American, he is not disturbed and succeeds in turning the state upside down and at last is made "Sho-Gun," and inherits all the ancestors of several dynasties. With its oriental splendor of setting, its large bunch of pretty girls and Mr. Luders' beautiful music, "The Sho-Gun" is an attraction well worth the seeing.

On Saturday, February 4, Charles Hawtreys in "A Message from Mars" will be the attraction at the Great Southern theatre. "A Message from Mars" has been called the best comedy written by an Englishman in many years.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The committee on ways and means of the house of representatives began a series of hearings on the bill to reduce the rate of duty on Philippine sugar coming into the United States. A number of representatives of the beet sugar industry, mostly from Michigan, were present to oppose the measure.

Mrs. Cody's Reply.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 24.—Mrs. Louisa Cody's answer to the divorce suit of Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) was filed in court. She denies that she ever attempted to poison Colonel Cody or was guilty of any infidelities to him and disavows to his guests, as alleged in his bill, and makes a counter charge of infidelity. Judge Scott set the hearing for Feb. 14.

WITH SKUNKS

Mr. Miller Had a Thrilling Experience.

MANY CHICKENS DISAPPEAR

Skunk Crop in the Vicinity of Beech Woods Is Unusually Good This Season.

Thornville, O., (Beech Woods), Jan. 24.—In every section of the country skunks are unusually numerous this year. Lewis Williams and his brother Arley, caught eleven out of one den. Edgar Perry dug up six. The chickens and other fowls in consequence have suffered disastrously as the many carcasses and the disagreeable odor around the farmers' premises testify, and lately even men have been attacked. Only a few days ago J. Miller had a thrilling experience. The obnoxious odor grew so intense around a corn crib that he decided to pry up some of the boards in the floor. While in the act of laying one of the boards back he heard a noise and turning, was confronted by a raven black skunk. Soon eight more joined their companion. Some were black, others spotted. The man not being armed, was badly frightened, but luckily managed to find a stick and thus armed he began backing away. A wild chase was given by the skunks, as they threw their obnoxious odor in every direction. The poor fellow got such a whiff that he held his nose for fear of losing his evening's supper, while using his other hand in defense. They circled around him and whenever they came near enough he struck at them. They made a concerted rush. The leader was laid low with the stick and the man turned and ran away safely. The other skunks, it is thought, at the loss of their leader and the proximity of a dog, gave up the chase.

Teamsters May Strike.

Chicago, Jan. 24.—A strike of teamsters against the packing firms of Nelson Morris & Co. and Armour & Co. has been voted by the packing house teamsters' union. If such action becomes necessary to procure the reinstatement of three men discharged by the packers. Before drastic action is taken, however, according to Business Agent George Golden of the teamsters, committee will seek amicable adjustment of the difficulty, and will in any event await approval of the strike by the teamsters' joint council.

Ridiculous Man.

"If your Dumas Society really wants to accomplish a good deal of work why don't you buy a sewing machine?" he asked.

"Why?" she asked in surprise.

"Because no machine could do as much as half a dozen women at least."

Mysterious Tragedy.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—A man and woman, registering as "E. S. Terry and wife, Chicago," engaged quarters at the Blatz hotel in this city on Jan. 13. Mrs. Terry's dead body was found lying on the bed in their room, and a note, supposed to have been written by Mr. Terry, with directions regarding the disposal of the bodies, was found in the room. It is believed by the police that a double suicide had been planned and that the man lost his nerve. It is said the woman swallowed carbolic acid. Mrs. Terry was apparently about 20 years of age.

Counterfeiting Charged.

Philadelphia, Jan. 24.—Charged with counterfeiting, Henry Walsh and Joseph Conors were held in $2,000 bail for trial by United States Commissioner Craig, and Stephen Williams, who was arrested with the men, was required to furnish $1,000 bail. The prisoners were captured in a raid conducted by secret service men last Saturday night. It was in evidence that both Conors and Walsh had served terms of imprisonment for counterfeiting, and it is said by the secret service men that the two men belong to a notorious gang.

Germany's Coal Strike.

Cologne, Germany, Jan. 24.—The strikers, who now number nearly 220,000, are simply awaiting the influence of public opinion on the coal mine proprietors and the efforts of the government to assist in the settlement. No disturbances are reported. Drafts of police from other parts of Prussia continue to arrive. Considerable quantities of coal from Belgium are coming in.

Mission of German Miners.

Essen, Jan. 24.—Reichstag and Bernstein, Socialists, and Schroeder, a member of the miners' general committee, have departed for England. Their mission is not stated, but some believe that it is to inaugurate a movement among English operatives against mining coal to supply the German market, thus weakening the fight of the German miners.

Sympathetic Strike.

Brussels, Jan. 24.—A strike of coal miners has been declared in the Mons district in sympathy with the German strikes. It is feared the trouble will extend to other districts.

Village Burns.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—The village of Brookfield, about 12 miles west of this city, was nearly wiped out by fire. The loss is estimated at $30,000, partly covered by insurance.

Woman Up To Date

The Resourceful Girl and the Loud Voiced Lady. A Spinster's Experiences With Man's Conceit

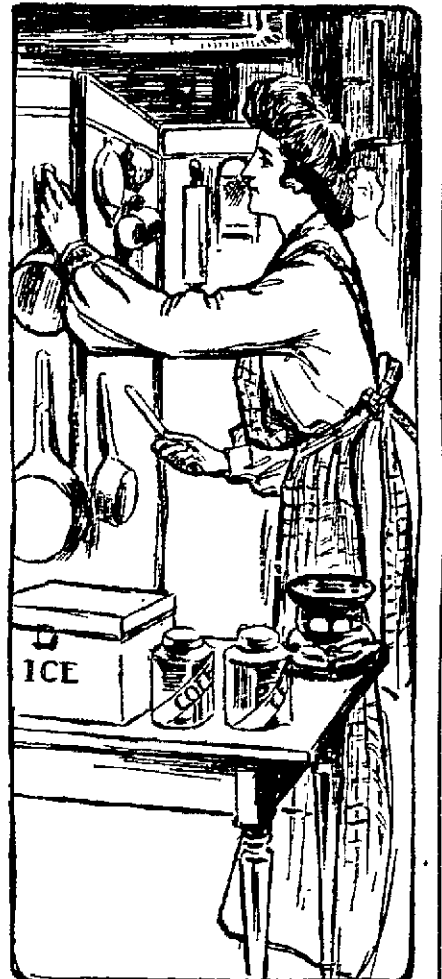

Who is the wisest and best of her sex?

The resourceful girl. There are plenty of women who can accomplish results if they are given a lot of the finest material to work with; there are fewer who can do wonders with scant material, but the smallest number of all comprises those who can make almost any kind of success with what they have at hand.

"Take the apparently small matter of 'making a home.' It's easy enough if you have a man back of you to pay the rent and sign checks, but when you are alone and can only afford one room, which must be your studio and workroom, your reception room and bedroom, your kitchen and dining room as well—what then?

The Way Out of Difficulties.

The ordinary girl would give up any idea of home and live in a hall bedroom in a boarding house where she could not receive her friends, but the resourceful girl manages both to live and to receive her friends in her little combination studio. What if the guest of honor is seated on the potato barrel artistically draped as a piano stool? He does not know or care. And if the highly ornate screen conceals a few pots and pans and a gas stove no one will be so rude as to pry. The box divan with its wealth of pillows is both wardrobe and bed, but who knows that? The artistic portiere does not conceal the entrance to another room, but merely the closet which the resourceful girl has converted into an ideal dressing room. And thus she lives at one-half the cost and in twice the comfort of the unresourceful maiden.

The Loud Voiced Creature.

I am wondering what process of regeneration the loud voiced woman will undergo in the next world, for surely the saints won't tolerate her in the midst of the eternal peace.

Whether you do or you don't wish it, you are simply forced to listen to her talk. Oftener than not it is about the most trivial domestic matters; sometimes, alas, it is about subjects which are of the utmost intimacy; hardly ever is it intellectual or even interesting. The street cars appear to be the ideal spots for such conversation, and all the passengers are the audience.

Sometimes, however, the fair speaker is not in ignorance of the carrying power of her voice, and you know it right away by the character of the conversation, such as:

"Yes, I really think they cook potatoes better at Delmonico's. I was there to lunch yesterday, and—"

"I saw a loveliness like that at Mrs. Greathair's ball. Such nice people, the Greathairs!"

And her listeners are duly impressed!

Masculine Conceit.

"I wonder if there are any limitations to masculine conceit," observed the sarcastic spinster. "I passed a man hobnobbing along on the ice, supporting himself in a painful manner with a crutch. Suddenly he made a misstep and almost without thinking I stretched out my hand to help him. He was going to fall. Just imagine how I felt when he recovered his balance and jauntily touched his hat with a kind expression. But this is not the limit. The other evening in the car a very fat and sporty looking old gentleman, with one eye quite closed and a short bald pate over it, cheerfully called me out of the remaining half of the car, and told me to 'Special file' for obtaining patents in all countries."

WOODSIDE SCHOOL

TO HAVE TWELVE ROOMS WHEN COMPLETED.

Only Eight Rooms will be Finished for Immediate Use—Meeting of the School Board.

The Board of Education met in adjourned session Monday evening with members present Messrs. Beggs, Fulton, Haight, Keebley and Keller, President Beggs in the chair.

Several bills were presented and referred to the auditing committee.

The board then took up the matter of the size of the proposed new Woodside school building.

In view of the fact that all the rooms in an eight room building would be occupied immediately after completion, and leave no margin for future increase in the number of school children, the board decided to erect a twelve room building.

It is proposed to finish eight rooms ready for occupancy, while the other four will be finished as the need arises.

The reason which actuated the board in deciding on a twelve room building, is that experience has taught that it is more economical to build a larger building than is absolutely necessary for the present, allowing for future growth.

Nearly two years ago the board built the Riverside building on Case avenue hoping to relieve that section of the city.

It was completed late last summer and at the beginning of the present school year every room was crowded, it being necessary in the primary grades to have only half day sessions.

In addition the board has been compelled to have two overflow schools, one on Hoover and one on North Fourth streets.

Last summer the board built a four room addition to the Mahoning street building in West Newark.

Every room being filled immediately after completion and no room left for future increase it is probable that an overflow will have to be furnished next year in this part of town.

This last summer a four room building was built on Indiana street, every room of which will be occupied as soon as it is completed, which will be in about a week. The heating apparatus does not work satisfactorily as yet, which is all that is needed to prepare the building for occupancy.

In view of these facts, and not wanting the same condition to exist in Woodside, the board decided to provide for this contingency by building a large enough building to take care of the increase.

The board decided to employ Bartlett Brothers of Cleveland, heating and ventilating engineers, to prepare two sets of plans and specifications for heating and ventilating the new Woodside building, one for the mechanical hot air system and one for the mechanical steam system.

The board contemplates advertising for bids on both systems, and make a choice after the bids have been received.

The condition of Clyde Crilly, son of Major A. J. Crilly, who has been threatened with bloodpoisoning as the result of irritating a slight growth on one of his hands with a pin, is still quite serious.

The young man has been unable to obtain sleep since Saturday night, and since noon of the same day he has taken no nourishment.

Sir Edward H. Seymour, who has been appointed admiral of the fleet to succeed Admiral Salmon on the latter's retirement in February, is of Irish descent and comes of a family which has contributed several noted fighters to the British navy.

It was Sir Edward who led the allied forces in their unsuccessful endeavor to reach Peking in a few years ago. He is 64 years old and has been in the navy for over half a century.

MEYER & LINDORF

LOOKS LIKE A LAKE NOW

Not a Stump to be Seen from Cranberry Marsh to New Reservoir—Warden Will Stop Illegal Fishing at Buckeye Lake.

Buckeye Lake, wisely known as the fishing reservoir, will look like a lake the coming summer, and the indications are that within a year or so the fishing at this famous resort will be better than ever.

For several months the state has had men at work removing the stumps from the water, and Col. J. L. Rogers, president of the state fish and game commission, who visited the lake a few days ago, says that thus far this season over 12,000 stumps have been removed and that not a stump is now to be seen all the way from "Cranberry Marsh" to the new reservoir. Before the cold weather set in the men at work pulled 800 big stumps and carried them to one of the numerous islands in the lake, and since then over 1,000 have been chopped off close to the ice. As the lake was four feet below low water mark when the water froze, not a stump will be seen when the water rises next spring, and boats will be able to go anywhere on the water. It is proposed now to clear the water of stumps all the way to Thorp.

As announced a few days ago, Chief Warden Powerfield swooped down upon the lake last week and captured 41 nets and liberated about 500 pounds of fish. Mr. Rogers says that the removal of the stumps will be a severe blow to the poachers who have used the stumps to tie their trot lines and fasten their nets to. When the stumps are all out of sight the fishermen will have to set nets or trot lines with great difficulty in setting their nets so as to be able to find them. The officers are determined to break up illegal fishing at Buckeye Lake and a close watch is to be kept on the water. Sportmen in Newark and over the state will be pleased to know that the state officials mean business.

THE CAPTURED FISH NETS.

The case brought by Chief Fish and Game Warden Powerfield for the condemnation of 41 nets taken by him from the waters of Buckeye Lake, will come up before Mayor A. J. Crilly on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The nets are brought under a law passed by the last general assembly, which prohibits any person or other officer to set or use any net or trap set contrary to law, and when this fact is proven before any mayor, justice of the peace, or other magistrate, the contraband goods may be declared forfeited to the fish and game commissioner to be sold and the proceeds to be covered into the state treasury for use of said commission. Said proceeding does not stop any criminal proceeding if the owner of the confiscated property is known. In the case pending the owner is unknown, so Constable Will Brooks posted a notice, according to law near the spot where the nets were taken.

Mr. Rogers in his statement regarding the removal of the stumps precluding the use of nets and trot lines, has overlooked the fact that the crafty fishermen who have been depopulating the Lake of its best fish for many years, do not use the stumps for either the purpose of anchoring nets or attaching trot lines. These fishermen realize that the search for their illegal paraphernalia would be greatly facilitated by using the stumps as a means of anchorage, and also are on to the fact that the pull of a half dozen or four or five pound bass against a trotline attached to a rigid stump would give the fish an opportunity to use his strength in breaking the lines. The anchorage for trot lines is usually a long, slender green pole, driven into the mud and covered to a depth of two or three feet by the water. The exact location of the spot where the pole is driven is marked by prominent landmarks, the fisherman guilelessly allowing his boat to float into exact position, and then reaching down into the water with a staff raising the line carefully to the surface and pulling his boat by means of the line to the small lines with the hooks attached. The catch is thus removed along the entire length of line, and with reeled boats it is allowed to sink silently to the required depth, ready to again lure the fish and best of the case in the lake.

The only way to stop illegal taking of fish in Buckeye Lake, is to exercise a keen and intelligent espionage of the suspected poachers, and catch them with the nets on them. After that the law should be rigidly enforced, and the pleasure and sportmen will cheer for the first time in the history of the reservoir come into their own.

EIGHTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Of Mrs. Eliza A. Ayers Royally Celebrated at Her Home in Newark Monday.

Monday, January 23, was occasion of a very pleasant surprise on Mrs. Eliza A. Ayers, widow of W. H. Ayers who died in August of 1887, aged 67 years, 3 months and 16 days, and who was buried in Cedar Hill cemetery by the G. A. R.

Mrs. Ayers has lived in Newark for many years, and Monday she reached the eighty-fifth milestone of her life. She is the mother of nine children and has 27 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. Her children planned to celebrate the event in a proper manner and get up a surprise on her which was successfully carried out. At an early hour in the day Mrs. Ayers was greatly surprised when a large number of her relatives came in on her pleasant home, 51 South Fifth street, and took complete possession of the house. After a general greeting and handshaking, and some time spent in social conversation, the next thing in order was dinner, and the strength of the tables was tried by the birthday dinner that had been prepared for the occasion. Mrs. Ayers was presented with a number of useful and handsome presents, and after a season spent in having a good social time, the hour for parting came, and all left feeling that they had had a most enjoyable time. Those present were G. W. Todd, Columbus; Lorena Haines, Zanesville; Mary Lucas, Zanesville; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Rochelle, Blacklick; W. R. Ayers, Summit Station; J. F.
